As a Legal Project Manager at Quandary Peak Research, I specialize in developing streamlined processes, managing complex cases, and facilitating clear and effective client communication. With a results-oriented approach, I bring extensive experience in legal case management and administrative operations, emphasizing meticulous scheduling, thorough documentation, and efficient database management. My commitment to confidentiality and delivering high-quality outcomes is unwavering.

Throughout the project lifecycle, I am actively involved in every phase—from initiating requests and bidding for proposals to managing client accounts and overseeing project execution. I lead and support a team of experts in analyzing and advising on software safety and quality, ensuring that our efforts consistently meet the highest standards.

I regularly oversee software litigation cases, including those involving patent infringement, trade secret misappropriation, and breach of contract. In addition to my litigation work, I also manage Health IT Audit projects, particularly those related to CEHRT regulations, ensuring compliance and accuracy in the health technology space. In both roles, I work closely with clients to ensure that project goals are achieved and expectations are exceeded.
